Easy 4-Step Upgrade Packet

If you think changing banks is a hassle, think again!
Simply follow these 4 easy steps:

Step 1: Open your new Paragon National Bank account,

We have a full array of checking accounts to meet every customer's individual banking needs – from basic accounts and interest-bearing accounts to accounts with special benefits. For more information on these accounts, please consult with your Personal Banker. The first step toward opening your new account is to complete the Customer Information form.

Step 2: Change your direct deposit*

Use this Direct Deposit form to direct all of your automatic deposits to your new Paragon National Bank account. Be sure to include a new Paragon National Bank voided check. Depositors may require specific forms. Please check with your employer or depositor to see if this form will suffice. Your Personal Banker can help you with this process.

Step 3: Change your automatic payments*

Use this ACH Transfer form to direct all of your automatic withdrawals to your new Paragon National Bank account. Simply fill out the form, and then give copies to anyone who is set up to automatically debit your checking account. Please note some vendors may require use of their forms for this process. Your Personal Banker can help you with this process.

Step 4: Close your old account

Verify that all checks have cleared, and all automatic withdrawals have been successfully transferred to your new Paragon account. Once all automated debits and credits stop, you can close your old account and begin using your Paragon Bank account exclusively. Simply, send this Close Account form to your old bank to close your account. It's that easy! Destroy any unused checks, ATM and debit cards.

*Knowing your bank's routing and transit number is important when setting up automatic payments and direct deposits. To locate your routing and transit number, simply read the numbers at the bottom of your check. The first set of numbers will display your bank's routing and transit number. The second set of numbers (in the middle of the check) will display your account number.
